

index

index file for the 1910 US census for McKownville includes the areas on both the North and the South sides of Western Avenue

The area covered also includes parts of McKownville annexed in 1916 by the City of Albany

In McKownville most houses were recorded as on "Western Plank Road", apart from some on Fuller Road White Church Road is now called Schoolhouse Road; it is not the present Church Road identifying where these houses were located is only possible if the occupant is found in later censuses or the 1931 city directory inferred house numbers marked in brackets: [12]; X marks an unidentified house we infer that the entries marked in pale yellow in the family number column were in the area of present-day McKownville (families 15-28; 36-38; 46-50; and some of 70-76); some others on Fuller Road, 44-45, and 51-54, may also have been in McKownville families 29-35 were living in the area east of the Krumkill E branch, annexed from McKownville in 1916 the Lydius Street listings were also part of the 1916 annexation by the City of Albany the entries on these pages may well contain transcription errors; the original scans, and the handwriting, can be hard to decipher they include only the more significant information (refer to the original census pages for the omitted columns)
