Whereas the Planning Board should be, and was understood to be an advisory group to the Town Board However, ^{This is Questionable} as was evidenced by action taken to "Reject" an Area A, understood as suggested by the Town Board; the Planning Board moved that it give a negative recommendation to the Town Board.
It did however state (to me) that they had no other site in mind and that the Town Board was expected to propose another area that may be considered.
The Planning Board had nothing else in mind.
