

Times Union
7/19/81

Staff photo by Bob Richey

TOWERING QUESTION — This Guilderland scene would be changed under a traffic realignment plan recently submitted to the state Department of Transportation. In order to avert anticipated carbon monoxide pollution problems near the proposed Crossgates Mall, according to a plan submitted by the developers, Schoolhouse Road would be moved to cross Western Avenue near this intersection with a ramp to the Northway (foreground). The McKnownville reservoir water tower in the background would be unaffected, transportation officials say.